

Francis L. Regan

SSG Francis L. Regan is a graduate student at Mills College in Oakland, CA, studying interdisciplinary computer science. He enlisted in the Army in January 2004 as an Infantryman, joining Civil Affairs in 2008 as a medic after completing the Special Operations Combat Medic course. He left active duty in 2011, joining the Army Reserve and attending MOS training for Civil Affairs. Since 2015, SSG Regan has been involved with Civil Information Management in the 351st Civil Affairs Command in Mountain View, CA, including a year as acting chief of the program and currently as its NCOIC. As a civilian he works for Kaiser Permanente as a Registered Nurse. He holds bachelor's degrees in nursing and information systems management.