

ANDREW C. WEBB

Major • U.S. Army

100 Stimson Road • Fort Leavenworth, KS 66027 • awebb18@jhu.edu

Major Andy Webb was born and raised in Lynchburg, VA, attended the U.S. Military Academy, and commissioned as an infantry officer in 2006. He served as a Platoon Leader in 1st Brigade, 82nd Airborne Division, Platoon Leader and Battalion S5 officer in the 1st Ranger Battalion, Assistant Battalion Operations Officer in 2nd Battalion, 9th Infantry, 2nd Infantry Division, Commander of a mechanized infantry company in 1st Battalion, 72nd Tank Battalion, 2nd Infantry Division, and HHC Commander, Special Operations Command Korea. He has deployed to Iraq once and Afghanistan three times. In 2013, the Chief of Staff of the Army recognized Major Webb with the General Douglas MacArthur Leadership Award.

Major Webb's previous assignment was as an Assistant Professor of International Affairs at the U.S. Military Academy where he also served as the Officer-in-Charge and coach of the Cycling Team. Major Webb is a graduate of the Airborne, Jumpmaster, SERE-C, and Ranger schools.

Major Webb holds a Bachelor of Science in Comparative Politics from the U.S. Military Academy where he was an exchange student at the French Military Academy and a Master of Arts in International Economics and Strategic Studies from Johns Hopkins University's School of Advanced International Studies where he is now a Ph.D. student.

Major Webb is currently a student at the U.S. Army Command and General Staff Officer's Course where he is a member of the Art of War Scholars Program. He is also a 2019 General Omar N. Bradley Fellow for Military History.