

Dr. Pär Gustafsson Biography

Pär Gustafsson holds a doctorate from Oxford University, UK and has worked with Russia-related issues since the 1990s. Dr. Gustafsson was awarded his degree for a thesis on formal and informal conflict resolution in the contemporary Russian economy. He held a postdoctoral position at the University of Uppsala and was a Senior Member of St. Antony's College's Centre of Russian Studies in Oxford for a year. Dr. Gustafsson has lived and conducted research in Moscow and St. Petersburg, Russia in the late 1990s and early 00s. Today, he is a civil servant and a Senior Analyst in the Russia Team of the Swedish Defence Research Agency (FOI) in Stockholm and, currently, the Co-Editor of Russian military capability in a ten-year perspective—2022.